

Paul Edward Beverley

An expert in handling texts of a technical nature:

- Accurate proofreading with a keen eye for detail
- Sensitive editing that brings clarity and a fuller understanding to the reader
- Specialist in texts by non-native English speakers

Able to work with different types of organisation: public or private, large or small

Recent training

- | | |
|-----------------|---|
| 2005–16 | Six SfEP National Conferences (2005, 06, 09, 10, 12, 16) |
| 2010 (Dec) | ‘Efficient copy-editing’ – day course by Society for Editors and Proofreaders |
| 2007 (Sept) | ‘On-screen editing’ – day course by SfEP |
| 2006 (Oct) | ‘Professional copy-editing’ – day course by SfEP |
| 2005 (Nov) | ‘Brush up your copy-editing’ – day course by SfEP |
| 2005 (July) | ‘Brush up your grammar’ – day course by SfEP |
| 2005 (May–July) | ‘Basic proofreading’ – Publishing Training Centre (Merit) |

Experience

- | | |
|--------------|---|
| 2017–present | Creator of 55+ training videos related to Word Macros for Editors |
| 2010–present | Author of Word Macros for Editors (1000+pp, electronic format) |
| 2009–present | Delivering training courses for editors |
| 2001–present | Freelance editing and proofreading for clients including Hodder, Macmillan, OUP, Pearson, RIBA, TSO and Wiley |
| 2002–06 | Owner/editor/publisher: Living with Technology magazine |
| 1987–2007 | Owner/editor/publisher: Archive magazine for Acorn computers |
| 1983–87 | Author of 80+ articles for computer magazines + seven computer books |
| 1980–84 | Full-time electronics lecturer |
| 1972–80 | Full-time A-level physics teacher |

Qualifications

- Licentiate of the City & Guilds Institute in Editorial Skills (2009)
- Advanced Professional Membership of SfEP (2006)
- MSc University of East Anglia – Computers in Science Education (1983/4)
- PGCE Manchester – Physics (1971/2)
- MA Cambridge – Engineering + Electronics (1968/71)

Contact details

46 Nightingale Drive
Norwich NR8 6TR, UK

+44-(0)1603-722544
paul@archivepub.co.uk